

St Margaret's

YOUNG PAST STUDENT OF DISTINCTION AWARD 2017

Penelope Twemlow
Graduation: 2000

Penelope Twemlow's career started in the Australian Defence Force, where she was involved in projects and deployments around Australia and Southeast Asia. After she left the Defence Force, she held senior positions in the mining, oil, construction and gas sectors.

In 2015, Penelope was appointed CEO of Energy Skills Queensland, an independent, not-for-profit organisation providing innovative solutions to enable a skilled and safe energy industry.

She is also Chair of the Queensland Electrical Safety Education Committee, and founder and Chair of Women in Power, a not-for-profit organisation that promotes and improves the electrical and electro-technology industry by the advancement of women within it.

Penelope has received numerous accolades including the 2016 Queensland Telstra Business Women's Award for Purpose and Social Enterprise and 2016 APAC Insider CEO of the Year.

The St Margaret's Past Students Awards

