

Our People

St Margaret's staff members, whether teaching or support staff, are dedicated, committed and outstanding in their fields of endeavour. They are all focused on providing the best environment for our students throughout their journey at St Margarets and are passionate about the education of the next generation of young women.

Our teachers are highly qualified professionals with almost 50 per cent either having achieved their master's degree or are studying towards it. They are focused on student outcomes – both academic and extra-curricular – and dedicated to the healthy wellbeing of the students in their care.

The teaching staff are themselves exemplars of what they endeavour to instil in their students – a love of learning and to be life-long learners. They actively engage in professional development opportunities either externally or in-house through peer to peer learning, and frequently present to their peers at conferences, seminars and workshops, They are frequently published externally, and internally through the staff development journal Sunata.

The staff also are dedicated to providing the girls with the myriad extracurricular opportunities that are available beyond the classroom – whether through sport, music, the arts or the broad range of clubs, activities and community service initiatives.

St Margaret's is home to over 170 boarders and our specialist boarding staff are committed to providing the very best home away from home environment to our diverse group of boarders. They are passionate about creating a community where everyone feels engaged, supported and nurtured.